Banana Runtz by Syngery Cannabis through a generous benefactor who prefers to remain nameless on 12/09/19. Originally picked up at Cookies Melrose. THC tested at 25.37%. Originally purchased for $50 plus taxes. I loved Golden State Banana, so I was thrilled to have the opportunity to check out these Banana Runtz. The only big bud I was given had a nice solid structure. As you run your eyes through the snug surface, quickly move back and forth from dark green to light green with gangly reddish brown pistils and a generous glaze of walruses in places so numerous that it's hard to figure out the color. The nose out of the jar is skilled and peppery in a way that struck me as the smell of opening a drawer of a real wooden dresser that was intact in storage for a long time. Breaking the nug gives you a surprisingly fruity scent and relegates that alegibility to the background. On hand grinding is where the Runtz really shines. I collect a very sugary sweet candy as a perfume that leaves a little sticky on my fingers. On the inhale I took a hint of that pepper and it was a bit the throat. On the suction I just have a little sweetness based on ale. The head change fast approaches and has a nice slap, but it won't leave you stunned or couchlocked. It is a very uniform hybrid of cheel that hits you in the eye but does not make you feel too tired. I'd say it's a good midday strain that fits whatever activity you have going on, whether it's channel navigation or real navigation, Banana Runtz would be a decent companion. I could take it back depending on what else is available as it wasn't a bad experience, but it wasn't too special either. If it were between this and golden state banana, I'd gravit to the GSB every time. If you find it on a ticket you're comfortable with I'd say it's worth a try if you like what you've read here. I definitely can't wait to try more from the Synergy Cannabis team! To begin with, where can I buy Banana Runtz online? It is an equally regulated half-and-a-half deformation (half indica/half sativa) made through the intersection of the Zkittlez X Gelato strain specimens. Do you love a taste of delicacies that are too sweet? You have it with Banana Runtz. This baby tastes sweet and sweet with traces of ready banana and just some dark pepper. In addition, the fragrance is just as tasty, though a little heavier. With a hint of impact and warm completed by new fruity bananas and delicacies The Banana Runtz high order is really regulated in general. With impacts affecting both the brain and the body with a high level of intensity due to its 20-26% normal THC level. Plus, you'll feel with a feeling of mental vitality and inspiration. This has your abduction flying and your center ebbing and streaming. A loosening of the physical impact goes with this exciting elevator. Freeing yourself from any palpitating painfulness both in the psyche and body and allowing you to really relax. Finally, with these impacts, buying Banana Runtz packages should often be ideal for treating conditions, such as distress, interminable torment, muscle attacks or problems, joint pain and incessant pressure.
